Ms. Benner,

During the exact period that your client, Amber McIntosh, was claiming $0.00 in educational expenses on the Form 14—a document to which you affixed your signature—she was simultaneously itemizing her financial obligations for our children's tuition in correspondence with Columbia Independent School. This email record (which I am happy to provide to the Court) explicitly documents payment agreements made in July 2025.

This is a clear-cut violation of Missouri Rule 4-3.3 (Candor Toward the Tribunal). You were put on formal notice of this false statement via my sworn Affidavit filed on November 14, 2025—exactly five months ago.

Furthermore, your client's false claim of "sole ownership" regarding our jointly-owned property in Newton, Kansas, is a matter of public record that requires less than five minutes to verify. Under Missouri Rule 55.03, you are obligated to perform a "reasonable inquiry" to ascertain the truthfulness of factual contentions. You failed to do so.

Rather than moving to cure these material misrepresentations during the five-month window provided, you instead attempted to railroad me with "stacked" mediation. I recognize this tactic for what it is: an attempt to compel me to negotiate against the objective truth and "sanitize" your client's affair and likely commercial sex work with a documented abuser—an individual with a decades-long, public, professionally damaging history of misconduct toward your client and other women. Attempting to frame my forensic documentation of these facts as "obsessive," "surveilling," or "covert narcissism" (a narrative your client has been unsuccessfully workshopping with my mother) will not succeed. And further, blatantly prioritizes your client's avoidance of accountability over the obvious best interests of her children. The racial dynamics of the situation are also duly noted.

As my correspondence with Andrew Mirsky and the DNC General Counsel indicates, my patience for bad-faith institutional avoidance is exhausted. At this stage, you are actively risking your professional license. I have every intention of holding you professionally accountable for:

1. Direct participation in financial fraud (Form 14 and Property Statements).
2. Facilitation of a police cover-up regarding sex crimes acknowledged by your client in writing (e.g., Exhibit A of my RFP) and implicitly confirmed by her illegal attempts to compel me to destroy evidence.

You have been in possession of sufficient evidence for months to know that I am not an outsider to these legal and political dimensions. You have committed multiple sanctionable offenses and have made zero good-faith effort to cure them.

Expect my filings to reflect this lack of cure.

Good afternoon,

We have separated everything out between each of your FACTS accounts. Shingai, we will take your account off of hold once we receive the MO Scholars funds. Everything will be split 50/50 moving forward.

Thank you,

Beth,

To clarify: the MO Scholars award was an individual application submitted in my name based solely on my household income and financial documentation. While I used Amber's address on the application (required because it matched Ariko's prior year school records), this was an administrative requirement - not a joint application.

The grant was awarded based on my individual qualifications and should be credited to my portion of the combined balance as I indicated.

Please proceed with applying the $4,600 to my share, leaving balances of $912.50 for me and $5,512.50 for Amber. If Amber disputes this arrangement, she and I will resolve it separately - but for billing purposes, please credit the grant to my account as the grant recipient

Thank you,

Thanks for breaking this down for us, Beth.

@Shingai, if I'm understanding correctly you are suggesting that the full MOScholars Grant should be attributed solely to your portion of the split 50/50 tuition. I believe there must be some miscommunication here.

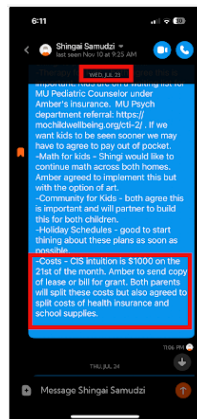

During our discussion and agreements from July 23rd, 2025 we both agreed that tuition costs would be split between us and we aligned on you submitting an application for the grant. You even requested a copy of the lease or bill with my address to use on the application. Although you were the parent who submitted for the grant, it is intended for the student's tuition. We also aligned on budget at that time. You stated that the costs would be $1000 per month, and I felt that $500 per month was a stretch but I confirmed I could afford it. It's wonderful that Ariko received the grant and that covers all of his tuition, but we still have Yara's tuition to account for equally. Ariko's grant does not absolve you of your responsibilities there.

I want to clarify that I am honoring my agreement from October 16th, 2025 to pay my portion of Yara's tuition. I never committed to covering all costs. This seems to have been taken out of context. The reason I made a partial payment is that I previously paid you $260 for September tuition that was never sent to the school, along with additional expenses that I have covered without reimbursement from your side. I was simply trying to balance things.

Once the grant hits Ariko's tuition there is an excess remainder of $750 (essentially the deposit) for his account. You are welcome to have this applied to your portion of Yara's tuition since you paid those deposits originally. (I do not have transaction history on my side for this.) This means that each of us owe $3587.50 but you can subtract the $750. (I'm excluding cubs quest since I know they use that during my weeks.) Our tuition division would be $2837.50 for you and $3587.50 for me after the grant is applied. And this is closer to the original amount I agreed I could afford on July 23rd.

If you cannot pay the $2,837.50 amount for the school year, please confirm, as this will be an outstanding debt that aligns to both of us.

Hi Beth,

This makes sense to me and thanks for the clarification!

The MO Scholars award should be credited to my half of the Combined balance for tuition (ie highlighted in green), and incidentals as they arise for the year should be split 50/50.

On Mon, Nov 10, 2025 at 3:08 PM Beth Edwards <edwardsb@cislions.org> wrote:

Good afternoon,

That makes sense. Typically, your net tuition would be split evenly between your two students. However, our JK4 flexible tuition policy states that we can only discount JK4 by up to 50%, making Yara's net tuition $7875. We were able to reduce Ariko quite a bit more to help with this.

I've summarized your billing and payments to-date below. For this conversation, I lumped tuition in with the new family fee, field trip fee and technology fee. The combined balance is $11,025, making the 50/50 split $5,512.50 each. This is highlighted in green below. I will need responses from both of you indicating that this split is agreeable and indicating what we are to do with the $4600 MO Scholars award once we received the funds.

Additionally, I've combined the cubs quest and club fees you've incurred to date. The balance, after Amber's 10/29 and 11/6 payments, is $254.04. This is highlighted in yellow below. I will need responses from both of you indicating that this balance is agreeable and indicating how we are to split the billing for additional incidentals the rest of the school year.

Thank you!

Hi Beth,

I see where my confusion is coming from. I had assumed they had the same tuition and simply split the remainder after the flexible tuition award in half between each child.

To untangle, let's outline the full set of fixed itemized costs (ie the $3500 plus $7875 plus new family fee, tech fee, field trip fees), split that in half to ID our respective obligations, and then we can credit the $4600 to my side. From there we can split invoices going forward 50/50, noting that Amber had agreed on Oct 16 to pay the invoice for that month for Yara's tuition.

Hi Shingai and Amber,

This news comes as a surprise to me. I understand these situations can get complicated at times, and can be uncomfortable to share this type of information with your childrens' school. Rest assured, we have other families in similar situations and we are more than willing to help where we can and be flexible when we can.

With only one FACTS account set up and only incidentals paid to-date, I am concerned because this is the first time we are being notified of your new payment arrangement. Moving forward, please be sure to let us know how we should proceed with tuition and incidentals so we can bill accordingly. I should note, Amber's take on the split is not the same as Shingai's at this time.

Ariko's net tuition (after the CIS flexible tuition award) is $3500. The MO Scholar's $4600 is meant to cover the $3500 tuition, $1000 new family fee, $50 technology fee and $50 field trip fee. Yara's net tuition (after the CIS flexible tuition award) is $7875. I will need you to both agree to the split on these items as well as other incidentals. To-date, Amber has paid $260 in incidental charges. These payments have been applied to Shingai's FACTS account since that's where all of the charges are currently housed. We will need to untangle this.

Please let me know asap how we are to proceed.

Thank you,

Beth Edwards

Hi Beth,

Per the written agreement between Amber and myself, we agreed to split 50/50 the remaining tuition balance after the CIS scholarship award. The MO Scholars award ($4,600) is my contribution to that remaining balance and covers Ariko's tuition in full. Per Amber's written commitment of 16 Oct 2025, Amber is responsible for Yara's tuition. The 50/50 split should be applied only to any remaining school fees (incidentals, field trips, after-care) once both payment plans are active.

I will activate my 50 % payment plan for those remaining fees once Amber's 50 % plan is live. Please confirm when her plan is complete so we can finalize the split.

Hi there,

Thank you for letting me know, Amber! Unfortunately, we do not see your 2025-2026 FACTS payment plan yet. Did you possibly set up your own FACTS account but not create the payment plan yet?

I also wanted to let you both know that I heard back from MO Scholars and they have just submitted a payment request for your award. Great news! Once we receive the $4600 from them, we will apply it 50/50 to your accounts. We pushed back Ariko's tuition to December, so the delay on the MO Scholars award has not affected your past due balance.

Shingai, can you please respond at your earliest convenience to discuss the plan for catching up?

Thank you,

Beth Edwards

Good afternoon, Shingai and Amber,

I am reaching out because we have not received any tuition payments for your children other than the two $750 deposits made back in April and May. Although the tuition is set up on an automatic payment plan, no payments have gone through because the credit card tied to the account is an expired card. Additionally, there are other incidental fees (after school care, clubs, field trip fee) that are also due in November and December. The incidental fees are on an invoice plan, meaning you will need to login and pay those manually or change this to an automatic payment plan just like your tuition payment plan.

It's imperative that you all catch up on your past due balance. Please respond to this email as soon as possible to let me know your plans for catching up.

It's my understanding that you all will possibly receive a MO Scholars award for Ariko. I have reached out to the Herzog Foundation about this multiple times but they were unable to give me a guarantee that the award is finalized. I reached out again today. My contact there has been pretty responsive, so hopefully he will be in touch soon. I'll keep you posted.

Regardless of the MO Scholars award, you all are behind on payments and your attention to this is very important.

Lastly, if we need to split the charges 50/50 over two different FACTS accounts, we can do so, but will need confirmation that you all want us to make this change.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Thank you!
